WANT REAL OLD AMERICAN STEAK, FRIED IN LARD

Jack Atkinson and his assistant, Jim Lloyd, report a sad state of affairs in Japan, where they have been unable to get enough to eat. The rest of Japan may not be sad, but Jack and Jim certainly are, having intimated so in a letter received this week by George Lyons.

The Grill proprietor had asked Lloyd to send him some sample bills-of-fare from the swell hotels stopped at during his journey in search of emigrants for Hawaii. On the last mail the menu cards duly arrived, and fussy affairs they are, with geishas, chrysanthemums, stories and temples all over them and formidable lists of entables between decorations. All is mockery, however, for this is what Lloyd writes: "I send you some (Japan) menu cards herewith. The menus look inviting enough, but if you want to do an act of charity, just send a tenderloin steak (thick and rare) fried in Real American Lard."

WICKERSHAM SORE AT JUDGE WOODRUFF

According to a statement made by Attorney-General Hemenway since his return from the national capital, Judge Woodruff's sudden resignation has not been received in good part by the authorities at Washington. Attorney-General Wickersham is said to be particularly sore at the way the judge jumped his job. Woodruff made a vigorous fight for the appointment, and then got out before he had served more than four months.

SENATOR MOORE MAY LEAVE HAWAII

"Running a cemetery is a dead business," announced Senator Moore yesterday, in explaining why he will probably shake the dust of Hawaii off his feet, resign from the senate and move away to San Francisco. "I haven't absolutely arranged to leave, but I am trying to get away," he said. The senator intends to go into business on the Coast, having decided that San Francisco offers a wider field for a rustler than Pearl City, and that politics under McCarthy ought to be livelier than under Fern. If he finally decides to leave the islands, it will be some time after the New Year.
